GOSHEN COUPLE OBSERVE

THEIR SILVER WEDDING

Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Randall Given a Surprise Visit by Friends.

Despite the inclement weather of Saturday evening, June 16, Maple Hill Farm, Goshen, Lebanon, was taken by storm when about ninety friends and relatives of Mr. and Mrs. J. A.
Randall, descended upon the home and took possession of the homestead to celebrate their silver wedding. The surprise was genuine. The daughters of the home had decorated the parlor with ferns, daisies and carnations. A short programme had been arranged consisting of songs, recitations and instrumental music and was most enjoyed. Miss Clara Gillett further entertained the company with an original poem written for the occasion.

Rev. J. H. Knott, in behalf of the company present, presented Mr. and Mrs. Randall $250 in new money, a gift which Mr. Randall acknowledged in a few well chosen words.

The couple were the recipients of a number of gifts, among which was a gift of 35 silver dollars from friends in Meriden.

Sandwiches, cake and ice cream were served. Guests were taken care of from Meriden, Colchester, Norwich, Franklin and Lebanon.

A truck load of nearly thirty made the trip from Lebanon. Mr. Randall lives at the ancestral homestead built by his grandfather. Mrs. Randall was Julia Manning, daughter of Nathaniel Manning of Lebanon. Their children are: Bessie, who teaches in the public school in Lyme, Ethel, who resides at home, and Arthur, a student at Connecticut Agricultural College.

Mr. Randall's mother, an old lady over ninety, resides with them and was joyed the affair very much.

The celebration so secretly arranged was carried out very successfully.

MANY ATTENDED CANNING

DEMONSTRATION AT Y. M. C. A.

Miss Nellie J. Campbell Instructs in the Art of Preserving.

A very large audience attested to the interest felt in the new vital subject of food conservation at the demonstration given by Miss Nellie J.
Campbell in the Y. M. C. A. hall Monday afternoon. The demonstration was under the active auspices of the College club of Norwich and the use of the hall and utensils was very kindly given by the Y. M. C. A. building.

Miss Campbell showed the canning of spinach, asparagus and strawberries under the cold pack method and showed how to test jars, covers and rubbers. Circulars issued by the Connecticut college extension service on home canning were distributed.

A general talk on canning and some of the requirements and a clear explanation of the cold pack method was given by Miss Campbell. The method shown to be a very simple and interesting one and the government assures us that it is a sure one.

The second demonstration will be held in the same place July 2, probably on the process of drying fruits and vegetables. These lectures are for the benefit of the public; are perfectly free and everybody is invited.

A near drowning occurred Monday morning when the four year old son of Mr. and Mrs. Aubrey Foster fell from the Blisville bridge near the J. B.
Martin Co. into the river which is several feet deep at that point. The boy was walking across the bridge with a playmate and leaving his companion the lad crawled through a hole in the picket fence onto the outer edge of the bridge and fell into the water.
His balance and toppled over into the water, a distance of about fifteen feet.

The boy's companion gave the alarm by screaming and Frank Yerrington, an employee of the J. B. Martin Co., who had witnessed the accident and was hurrying toward the child rushed into the stream with all his clothes on and grasped the struggling child as he was going down for the third time.

Several other men who had seen the accident tried to rescue the child, but Mr. Yerrington who was nearer, arrived before them. The child was uninjured save for a scratch on his arm. Dr. Louis Cassidy was summoned and found that the child had swallowed some water but otherwise was all right.
